DIPLOMA SUPPLEMENT

This Diploma Supplement model was developed by the European Commission, Council of Europe and UNESCO/CEPES. The purpose of the supplement is to provide sufficient independent data to improve the international 'transparency' and fair academic and professional recognition of qualifications (diplomas, degrees, certificates etc.). It is designed to provide a description of the nature, level, context, content and status of the studies that were pursued and successfully completed by the individual named on the original qualification to which this supplement is appended. It should be free from any value judgements, equivalence statements or suggestions about recognition. Information in all eight sections should be provided. Where information is not provided, an explanation should give the reason why.

4.2 Programme requirements:

The Graduate Diploma consists of four full units (or the equivalent). The Graduate Diploma (Mathematics) is assessed by unseen written papers. Each full unit is examined by one three-hour unseen written paper. Each half unit is examined by one two-hour unseen written paper. The examination on certain units also requires the submission of coursework or a project.

The programme aims to develop in its students the skills and abilities required for employment where quantitative skills are needed, such as banking, forecasting and risk. Successful graduates should be able to demonstrate their operational, intellectual and cognitive skills as well as their understanding of the concepts of mathematics at a suitable level.
